Portfolio Objective

The Imara MET Equity Fund is a general equity portfolio. The Fund largely mirrors the successful Imara Houseview investment policy and may consist of financially sound equity securities, property shares and property related securities listed on exchanges and assets in liquid form. In selecting securities for this portfolio, where possible, the manager shall seek to sustain high long-term capital growth.

Managers Comment

The fund outperformed its benchmark in February with a negative return of -1.4% compared to the JSE All Share return of -2.2%. Markets globally experienced a sell-off towards the end of the month on concerns that QE in the US might be slowed down. Markets however recovered sharply due to better than expected US economic data shortly thereafter.

We anticipate that the recovery in the US will be accompanied by only a moderate increase in inflation which should lead to a re-rating in equities. If higher inflation is accompanied by financial repression (QE), real bond yields could very well stay at these levels or move lower stabilising government debt and possibly see rising employment.

Our labour action in Q42012 had a profound impact on retail spend during that period and most of the retailers posted, although still good, disappointing results and profit guidance in the beginning of this year. Retail stocks came off sharply and valuations are currently more in line with fundamentals.

Following a renewed commitment by Finance Minister Pravin Gordhan in the Budget speech regarding the planned R850bn infrastructure expenditure, we think over the next decade, this could be the main driver of GDP growth in South Africa. We sense that central government is now far more involved in making sure that decisions get implemented.

On a long term PE basis, our market seems overstretched and a correction of about 10% cannot be ruled out. On a forward basis we are trading on approximately 13.6x earnings. The long term trajectory for our market remains very bullish with Africa north of us growing fast and local fixed investment hopefully getting off the ground.

Collective Investment Schemes (CIS) in securities are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. All CIS are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request. Commission may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. Forward pricing is used. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. MET Collective Investments Limited reserves the right to close and reopen certain portfolios from time to time in order to manage them more efficiently. The Fund may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. Different classes of participatory interests apply to certain portfolios, which are subject to different fees and charges. Performance figures quoted are from Morningstar/MoneyMate, as at the date of this factsheet for a lump sum investment, using NAV-NAV prices with income distributions reinvested.
